

Legal Test Services

A Legal DNA Test is required if the results are to be used for Legal Test purposes. The difference in price of a Legal DNA Test compared to a Peace of Mind DNA Test is due to the strict protocols that must be followed. This includes the verification of a test participants identity, when DNA samples are taken and the traceability of all samples to demonstrate a strict chain of custody.

Please see the following guidelines:

At the time test samples are collected, each test participant is required to provide:

- Two recent passport photos.
- Current photo identification – Passport or Driving Licence

For clients under 16 years of age, a birth certificate (along with the passport photos) will be accepted, if no other forms of identification exist. If clients are not in possession of their passport or other ID listed then suitable alternatives are sought.

A strict chain-of-custody is maintained at every step including verification of documentation by the sampler and secure and secure shipment of samples to the laboratory.

If you require a Legal DNA test, you must visit your local DNA Clinic or use our Registered Nurse Service. The process cannot be undertaken using the self-collection DNA Testing Kit.

All BioClinics DNA tests can be ordered as a Legal Test Service option.

Peace Of Mind DNA Tests

These DNA Tests are for personal information only, as the identities of the individuals involved are not legally verified.

Peace of Mind Tests are cheaper than the Legal Test versions, however, the DNA test itself is exactly the same as a DNA test that is used for legal purposes. It is just as accurate & the laboratory process is identical.

These Peace of Mind DNA tests can save time & money, giving the answers needed, without long, complicated & costly legal processes.

If you wish to choose a Peace of Mind Option, you can visit your local DNA Clinic or Pharmacy for a Peace of mind DNA test. You can also choose Our Registered Nurse service or our Home DNA testing kits.

All our DNA tests can be ordered as a Peace of Mind option.
